OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THERE IS STILL WIDE-spread confusion about state-mandated programs involving the installation of smog control devices.

That is what we learned recently from a memorandum issued by the Bay Area Pollution Control District.

That made us feel a little better.

It indicated that others apparently are as confused as we are over the situation.

The problem, unfortunately, is that we were still confused to some extent even after we had read the material that was sent out, examined the car owners' guide to vehicular smog controls and checked other data.

The memo from the Bay Area Smog Control District suggested that "these programs affect an estimated 800,000 Bay Area motorists, so any efforts to clear up the confusion are worth undertaking."

We found that it was not a simple matter to clear the air, so to speak, on this smog control issue, as far as cars are concerned.

We are still pretty hazy about it.

A STATE-RUN PROgram to equip older cars with emission control devices is now in effect. That we learned.

Since March 1, 1973, all American-made 1955-65 model vehicles have been required to be equipped with exhaust emission control devices, but ONLY upon transfer of ownership or first time registration in California.

Effective May 1, all 1966-70 foreign and domestic cars must be fitted with nitrogen oxide control devices upon transfer of ownership or first time registration in California.

And beginning on July 1, 1973, such controls become mandatory for all 1966-70 models.

Proof of installation will be a requirement for 1975 registration, with the cost of the control devices not to exceed $35, including installation, plus tax on parts only.

Most of this information was garnered from the news release sent out by the Bay Area Pollution Control District.

We were especially intrigued by this concluding statement in the news release: "The Bay Area Pollution Control District which controls nonmoving sources of air pollution is NOT involved in vehicular controls."

The California Highway Patrol will enforce the vehicular smog regulation.

That makes sense.

Otherwise it would mean that the smog control people would be patrolling the highways checking on smog violators while the CHP was patrolling for the other violations.

That, of course, would add to the traffic load.

And make more smog.

"RETROFIT DEADLINE". Do you know what that means?

In case some of you may get the impression that we are treating this smog control project too lightly, perish the thought.

We are for anything that will reduce air pollution.

And, if these controls will help the situation, let's have 'em.

We recognize there is no simple way to control smog.

And even the description of the regulations becomes complicated.

For example, we learned tha that the Department of Motor Vehicles will notify affected owners about "retrofit deadline."

We assume that means the date a person's car must have the smog control device installed.

We couldn't find "retrofit" in the dictionary.

But then, 10 years ago one

Brown slated to be JayCees annual banquet speaker

Edmund G. Brown, Jr., California Secretary of State, will be guest speaker at the sixth annual Distinguished Service Banquet sponsored by the Campbell JayCees at Zorba's Restaurant on May 18.

The JayCees will honor the outstanding young man of 1972 at the 7:30 dinner.

The award is given to a young man between the ages of 18 and 35 who lives or works in Campbell. Nominations are solicited from organizations and individuals, and selection is made by a committee of community leaders.

Past winners include, Len Edholm, Campbell Chamber of Commerce manager; Jack Christian, Campbell Fire Department; Carl Kuhn, former city administrative assistant, now living in Sacramento; Dale Scott, former planning commission chairman, now living in southern California, and Bob Dalzell, PG&E employee, now residing in San Luis Obispo. All were given for community service.

The "Distinguished Service Award" (DSA) is part of a national program by the JayCees to honor young men and the work they do for their community. Each year all of the local winners are reviewed and ten outstanding young men are named from all across the country.

Master of ceremonies for the event will be Fred LaCosse, news director of Channel 11 (KNTV).

Sub-committees report findings Thursday night

On Thursday evening, members of the city's Goals Steering Committee will receive recommendations from the three "area of concern" subcommittees for consideration.

The meeting will be held in the council chambers of the city hall at 7:30 p.m.

PARA-MEDICS RECOMMENDED

The first "area of concern" subcommittee was the physical and economic development of the city. Chairing this was Al Blaine with Dick Hardy serving as vice-chairman.

The recommendations from this group include the development of a para-medic program as an extension of the fire department. Estimated cost of such a program would be $16,000.

Another endorsement of this group is the development of a noise element and noise ordinance. Other recommendations include completion of the North Loop plan and the South Loop plan. Construction of these two streets would discourage through traffic on Campbell Avenue.

Construction of an additional fire station will be another recommendation as well as two ballot items. The ballot items would be the requirement of a yearly audit of all city financial activities and another to make the position of city treasurer an appointive one.

Other suggestions include review and updating of zoning ordinances, establishment of a standing committee to study the possible purchase of Campbell Water Company, a bond program for minor street construction, bi-yearly review of the land use plan, traffic study in residential areas, transit and transportation, and further study of an interchange at Campbell Avenue and Highway 17.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL

The second of the three "task forces" who will report to the steering committee Thursday evening are the Intergovernment Relations group. Chairing this committee was Steve Goodman. Jim D'Avis was vice-chairman. This group has made their strongest recommendation in an area of citizen concern -- the use of the emergency telephone number 911.

Pointing out that the state requires all communities to put the 911 number into use by 1982, the reporting group will justify its suggestions by pointing out how other county cities are planning for early implementation of the emergency system, with Sunnyvale already using it.

Inter-city transportation was another consideration of this task force who is recommending continuance of the association with the nine city consortium which was formed to avoid dominance of the County Transit Advisory Commission by larger cities.

The subcommittee is also suggesting that the city might strongly consider accepting the county offer of returning to the central communication system rather than operate our own system, with the justification that the county has offered the use of their system without cost and the use of the county system will make the emergency 911

SEVENTH YEAR -- Archie Beaton (Dave Whittiker) and his son Harry (Mike Maniglia) are central figures in the story of "Brigadoon" beginning this Thursday, May 10, at Campbell High School. Tickets are $1.25 for students and $1.50 for adults. This is the seventh annual performance by Campbell students.

Council considers traffic problems, disannexation

Campbell City Council considered a number of items last night (Tuesday) too late for press time.

The meeting was rescheduled from its regular date (Monday, May 14) because the councilmen will be attending the League of California Cities meeting in Sacramento on May 13, 14, 15.

(The second council meeting of the month has also been shifted, since it would fall on Monday, May 28, the Memorial Day holiday. The council will meet Tuesday, May 22.)

Among the items to be considered last night was a proposed "disannexation" from San Jose application by George H. Hallyburton, 134 N. Bland Ave.

Hallyburton, in a letter to the council, explained that he owned two adjacent parcels of property--one in San Jose and the other in Campbell and wished to combine the parcels into one development.

Two vacancies now occur on the Campbell Planning Commission following submission last night of a letter from Milton H. Howe, resigning from that body. A resignation was accepted two weeks ago from Carl Larson, who has been transferred from the Campbell area. Certificates of appreciation were slated to be presented to both men.

TRAFFIC STUDY

The item which was likely to have sparked the most community interest was an informal hearing on the East Campbell Avenue traffic study. The controversial traffic pattern in the area, which includes both city and county jurisdictions, has been under fire by residents for some time and an independent traffic study, recommending no action by city and county staff did not alleviate the residents' unhappiness.

APPEAL

The council was expected to continue an appeal by Mrs. Serafina Chinazzo on the denial by the planning commission of a use permit to convert a residence to a professional office.

Resolutions on the agenda included a request for a budget adjustment by the Civic Improvement Commission. The request was made in the hopes of saving a portion of a historic oak tree on the grounds on Eastfield Children's Center to be used to make a commemorative plaque for installation at the Campbell Library when it is constructed.

Other resolutions include ones honoring George Farrier, retiring county librarian, and Edward Glaeser, retiring county finance director.

The council was also in receipt of a letter from Mike Kennedy, president of the Campbell JayCees, requesting the council consider turning over the old engineering building at Grant and Third streets to the JayCees for refurbishment as a community center for meetings of civic organizations.

Shopping area gets planners approval

Plans for a new shopping area located on a 1.2 acre parcel at 801 W. Hamilton Ave., met approval Monday night as the Campbell Planning Commission unanimously voted to accept plans and development schedule of the Pan Pacific Properties development.

Completion date of the Spanish style retail and office buildings, with covered walkways, has been set for November.

NURSERY SCHOOL

Application for a use permit to operate a nursery school at 38 Fourth St. met approval by planners, after owner John F. Font assured the commission he understood building regulations covering the use of the residence as a school facility. Font, who owns and operates the Speech and Learning Center, located nearby on Campbell Avenue, told planners he will use the building as part of the therapy program for individuals with learning and speech difficulties. The present site of the pre-school program, he said, is now over two miles from the Campbell Avenue center.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business the commission:

Approved the application of W. H. Sallin for a zone change from R-3-S to P-0 on property located at 510 N. Eden Ave.

Approved landscape plans

Police dinner honors citizens and officers

Members of the Campbell Police Department, reserve officers and invited members of the community will attend the sixth annual police appreciation dinner on Wednesday, May 14, at Zorba's restaurant.

Featured speaker at the 7:30 dinner will be William Kidwell, special agent for the F.B.I.'s San Jose-Campbell office.

The community event was started by former Police Chief John D. Morgan in 1967 and for the four subsequent years, Morgan took charge of the event. In February, 1971, the chief was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage and the responsibility for the event was undertaken by Chief Don Burr.

Three significant presentations will be made during the evening. First will be the police officer of the year, an honor which was given last year to Sgt. Frank Furtaw. The second will be to the reserve officer of the year. Eric Pearson was so honored in 1972.

The final presentation will be to the department's citizen-of-the-year. Last year, Floyd Little, then owner of A & W Root Beer, was selected.

Previous citizen honors have gone for Mrs. Evelyn Morgan, Rev. Ben Gould, Bob Culp and George Vierhus (1967); Don Kennedy (1968); District Attorney Louis Bergna (1969); Bob Holman (1970) and Homer Hyde (1971).

Three chairmen are planning this year's event -- Mrs. Barbara Manfre, secretary to Chief Burr; and Mrs. Larry Kelly and Mrs. John Butler, wives of two police captains.

Hiking club must seek suitable quarters

West Valley Hiking Club may have to relocate their present facilities at 409 E. Hamilton Ave., but were granted a 60-day reprieve by city planners Monday night.

At the public hearing on the group's application for a use permit to operate a recreational facility at the site, instructors and senior advisors attended in support of the application.

SLIDE PRESENTATION

Spokesmen for the hiking group made a presentation to the Planning Commission including color slides, outlining the group's function, structure and scope. Now in its third year, the club includes over 20 teachers, dozens of senior

Zone changes raise land owner objections

by Pat Safford

Planning commissioners voted unanimously Monday night to recommend zoning changes in some nine parcels of land over strenuous objections from several land owners.

Part of the continuing program to amend the Zoning Map in accordance with the California Government Code, planners have been reviewing land use and zoning through the area. Public meetings have been held throughout the area in recent months to learn of residents' concerns and development wishes.

OBJECTIONS

Calvin Wilson, owner of a parcel now zoned R-3-S, objected to the proposal to rezone his property R-2-S. "I have been paying real estate taxes on the present zoning for 10 years," he stated, "I feel it is unfair for it to be changed now."

Another property owner, Ron Santo, charged that planners are penalizing the "small man" on these changes, while the large developer can get around zoning regulations.

In the case of properties presently developed as R-3-S sites, there might be a problem with a change to the R-2-S designation, planners learned. In case of a fire, planning staff reported, owners would have to rebuild within the current designation if over 50% of the building was destroyed.

IN THE MIDDLE

In response to another landowner who was very critical of planners, zoning regulations and the city planning staff, Commissioner Oleg Lubeckis explained that the commission must be responsive to the wishes of the people. The people have been most vocal in their desire for lower density zoning, he said, while other individuals with financial investments in their property want the best return on their dollar. "We're in the middle," he concluded.

YES OFFICE OPEN

Campbell's Youth Employment Service (YES) office opened officially this week, under the direction of Debbie Havens, Campbell High School senior.

Debbie will man the office from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and will be seeking jobs for students. To date, she has interviewed over 200 young people who are seeking part-time, summer and permanent jobs.

Telephone number of the office, located at 100 W. Rincon, is 378-1666.

Debbie was officially introduced to the Campbell City Council last evening and has been the guest of most local service clubs in the hope of getting local business interested in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored project.

FOR MOM---On order for the Sunday, May 13, Little League Mother's Day breakfast are 450 pounds of ham, 450 pounds of pancake mix, 450 dozen eggs and about 150 gallons of orange juice. The 16th annual breakfast, held at the Campbell High School cafeteria from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., expects to serve some 4,000 people this year. Shown above, left to right, are Tommy Emmett and Bobbi Salinas, both members of the Campbell Police Department team, stocking up for the event.

Bike safety month

May is Bicycle Safety Month by official proclamation of Mayor Dean R. Chamberlin.

In the proclamation, it is pointed out that the bicycle has entered into the major street transportation system as a vehicle, and can no longer be considered a toy.

At the same time, bicyclists are not afforded the same protection as that shown motorists by mandatory driver's education and licensing, or the same protection accorded the pedestrian with sidewalks, crossing guards, safety patrols, special pedestrian bridges and signals, and crosswalks.

The proclamation urges all citizens to observe even more carefully the laws and regulations governing the rights and responsibilities of bicyclists, both in terms of riding their bicycles more safely and of driving their automobiles more carefully with special regard to bicycles.

In a recent editorial we urged the development of bike trails and expressed the hope that the Youth Advisory Commission of the City of Campbell would undertake the promotion of bikeways as a major project.

We believe emphatically that there is a correlation between bicycle safety and bike trails.

If bikeways were available, many bicyclists, or would-be bicyclists, would not pedal on the main thoroughfares but would confine their activities to the trails.

This would greatly reduce the hazardous conditions that now exist and, in turn, would reduce the number of accidents involving bikes and cars.

But there will always be bikes and cars on the road at the same time.

Bicycle safety month serves the purpose of emphasizing that, although the majority of bicycle versus automobile collisions are the fault of the cyclist, the driver cannot be relieved of the responsibility to observe the rights of bike riders.

The California Highway Patrol points out that the California Vehicle Code extends the same rights to bicyclists as it does drivers, but even more important is the necessity to be alert for the mistakes of youngsters, particularly those 14 and under who often are unaware of their legal responsibilities.

Defensive driving could eliminate many mishaps, if drivers maintained more careful vigilance for the violations of this age group, such as a child darting unexpectedly from a driveway.

Drivers often squeeze bicylists when passing because they fail to allow necessary room. Another common driving error is pinning a bicylist to the curb when making a right turn.

We sincerely hope that during Bicycle Safety Month motorists and bicylists alike will give some thought to the dangers that lurk on the highways as far as bike-traveling is concerned.

Bikes add to the traffic problems and, as both auto and bike traffic increase, it is important that all of us, whether in a car or on a bike, recognize some of the basic factors.

For example, bicycles are harder to see because their silhouette is smaller.

Drivers should be particularly cautious in residential areas where bike use is more frequent. At night motorists should also watch for the bicycle lights and reflectors which can help drivers spot hard-to-see bicycle riders.

The duty of the motorist is to remain alert, exercise common sense and be on the look-out for bicycle riders in extraordinary situations.

And the bicyclist, in turn, should also adhere to safety rules and traffic regulations because the vast majority of bicycle accidents are caused by the unsafe behavior of the bicyclist.

Some of the leading causes of these accidents are: (1) riding on the wrong side of the road, against the flow of traffic; (2) Unsafe lane change; (3) Failure to yield by the bicyclist when entering the roadway; (4) Disregarding traffic signals and signs; (5) Improperly lighted-reflectorized bicycles during darkness; (6) Mechanical failure.

What we have attempted to point out in this editorial calling attention to Bicycle Safety Month is that this safety bit should be sort of a two-way street.

Motorists should watch out for bicyclists and bicyclists should do likewise for the motorists.

Of course, this should be done all 12 months of the year.

But if Bicycle Safety Month does make the public just a little more aware of the problem, it will have done a tremendous service.

THAT LAST NUMBER on your car's license plate also has something to do with the smog picture.

The last digit indicates what month a smog control device must be installed on one's car.

Cars bearing number 1 (one) as the last digit must have a device installed by the last day of July 1973.

Each month thereafter a new digit becomes the key. The schedule continues in sequence for 10 consecutive months through the last day of April 1974 for cars with 0 (zero) as the last digit.

Oh, yes, personalized license plates come under the regulation with a deadline of April 30, 1974.

That about covers the retrofits of the situation.

Happy motoring.

PROGRESS (SORT OF) is forcing one of Campbell's old-timers to leave the community in which he was born.

But Charlie Rose, a former councilman and mayor, is going to take part of Campbell with him; a tree.

The Rose residence at Hamilton and Esther is in the way of the widening project of Hamilton Avenue (from Highway 17 to Winchester).

Charlie and the city have come to terms and the Roses have acquired a house just outside the city.

One of the conditions of the sale was that a beautiful blue spruce that has long been Charlie's pride will be moved by the city to the Rose's new home.

We wish the Roses (Charlie and Helen) and the blue spruce well in their new location.

WE MENTIONED THAT Charlie Rose, a native of Campbell, had served as mayor of the city.

As a self-appointed and unofficial keeper of historical trivia of a statistical nature, we note that of the 12 mayors that have served Campbell during its 21 years of cityhood, three of them have been natives of the community.

We are positive that this startling bit of news will not make much of an impact but we will tell you anyway.

Along with Charlie Rose, Dick Morton and Homer Hyde were the Campbell natives who have wielded the mayor's gavel of office.

Now you know.

SPEAKING OF TREES, we recently became involved with some palm trees on the Oak Ridge Golf Course.

Of course, we have no way to prove it, but we are convinced that our experience with the said trees must be unprecedented in the annals of the ancient and honorable game of golf.

In two successive games, a golf ball we had hit ended in palm trees and stayed there.

Obviously, we were not aiming at the trees.

Nor had we any idea that our ball had not dropped down.

It was only after we had given up looking for it and happened to look up that we saw the little white object nestled in the crotch of the tree.

That was the first time.

When we hit the palm tree the next time, Bob Stephens was with us. He checked the tree first.

Sure enough, there was our ball.

But this time it was resting on another ball that was already in the tree!

Stephens, thereupon, charged us a one-stroke penalty for having an unplayable lie and confiscated the other ball for himself, because he had "found" it.

We thought it appropriate that the incident should be mentioned in this column.

Out on the limb.

MINUTES OF A RECENT Parks and Recreation Commission reveal comments like the following:

"Los Gatos Creek remains as the most notable 'eyesore in the city'".....

"It has special impact because of its location and importance as a 'front door' to the City".....

The minutes also recorded that members of the P & R Commission were enthusiastic in proposing a major effort to do something functional and effective in the treatment of the area between Campbell Avenue and Division Street.

We are pleased that a civic body has once again recognized the problem of Los Gatos Creek and has emphasized that something should be done about it.

We note that it was suggested that a contest be conducted for the development of a master plan for the Los Gatos Creek area.

We are not sure a contest is necessary to develop a Plan.

We are pretty certain that a number of excellent plans have been developed during the past 15 years or so.

And very little up-dating would be needed.

That "eye-sore" really hasn't changed much these past years.

advisors and hundreds of youngsters taking part in the year-round activities.

The staff recommendation was that planners refer the group and their problem to the Youth Commission and to the Parks and Recreation Commission for a possible alternate site and that the application be denied.

Planners heeded the first recommendation but held off decision on the permit for 60 days while the hiking group meets with the two city advisory bodies. "This program appears to be of great value to the community," Commissioner Robert Stewart said, "There is a solution somewhere."

INHERITED

Present facilities of the group was occupied by a business concern that ceased operating at the residential site after the city instituted legal proceedings against them. "It looks like you have inherited the problem from them," Planning Commission Chairman Don Hebard explained.

According to the staff reable to its present use. Eventual denial of the permit seems certain. "There is not much chance for obtaining a use permit," Hebard said.

In the meantime, commissioners expressed optimism that an alternate site could be found.

Although the task force considers the city's present system extremely efficient, it might be impractical if a satisfactory contract could be obtained from the county, according to the subcommittee.

PEOPLE-ORIENTED

The third area, people-oriented programs, made a number of social and related services studies, as well as cultural and special events, under the guidance of Dan Knowles, Chairman, and Jeanette Watson, vice-chairman. In committee meetings this group found concern as to youth and senior citizen programs, a community center, recreation programs, the city's long-awaited library and overall city beautification.

The Steering Committee will now have to consider the various programs and determine priorities.

ELAINE TRIPS OUT

Senior Elaine Marchesi will be representing Westmont and Northern California in Germany this summer as a result of a national German test given by the American association of German teachers on which she scored over 99%.

She will leave for Germany sometime in June or July, and will spend four weeks there as her prize for scoring high on the test.

When asked what her reaction was when she learned of her winning, Elaine replied, "I just screamed!" Rah.

Paul: Here's your copy of playgirl, a free deodorant sample, and a postcard.
Ms.: Who's the postcard from?
Paul: Some Ukley person from NBC.
Ms.: Garrick Utley?!! gasp AAHHHH--

ANCHORS AWEIGH

The Junior class is launching their Prom May 25th from the Bay of San Francisco.

Theirs is the first class from Westmont to have their prom on a boat. They will go up on busses and arrive with plenty of time for dinner.

Chosen Few will play to the theme of Dancing in Moonlight. Bids are $8, $9, $10, depending on your magazine sales.

Paul: It's only a postcard.
Ms.: It's not a postcard. It's a letter. It's on a postcard, but it's a letter. A personal correspondence written by his own personal hands on his own personal typewriter.
Paul: With his own personal mistakes.

CCS swim finals are the 11th and 12th.

There's a PTSA general meeting next Wednesday at 8 in the cafeteria.

Where have all our buddies gone? Like our favorite (?) Camden kitty Mike Lindsey.

Paul: What's so great about Garrick Ukley?
Ms.: Utley, UTLEY!
Paul: I saw him on the news last night, and he didn't look so great, that guy with the glasses.
Ms.: That was John Chancellor!!

Ms.: It's not that I envy him so much as that he's my hero.
Paul: Like that guy on Mary Tyler Moore?

EGO CORNER

This week, an unprecedented world record has occurred (Guiness take note).

Garrick Utley has been decorated for the second consecutive week as the darling of Ego Corner.

Congratulations Garrick Utley on this once in a lifetime honor.

Ms.: Paul, you know, I wrote him, and I told him about the column.
Paul: Garrick Utley knows about ME? A famous person knows of ME?
Ms.: NOW do you want to join my Garrick Utley Fan Club?

OUR TOWN

"Opening Day of Yachting" on San Francisco Bay found PHIL and BETH AUGER manning the sails of their 22 foot Venture. Beth said it was quite an exciting day with some 6,000 different crafts participating.

The festivities began with a parade out of the San Francisco Yacht Harbor led by a great fire boat spewing water high into the air. Then they proceeded to Angel Island where a "blessing of the ships" was given by clergy who were on board a naval vessel anchored nearby.

Beth said all the crafts were decorated, some elaborately, from one that looked like a Mississippi River paddle-wheel boat, to some with just a few streamers. The Auger's own craft was strung with 500 balloons, product of a 6 a.m. "blowing up" party with Phil and Beth hosting.

Champagne corks could be heard popping, as well as music from many of the larger yachts which had hired bands to entertain for the day. All in all it was a grand day on the bay...

Many people go to Hawaii for a special anniversary trip and it's not considered an earthshaking event. Such is not the case for MR. and MRS. EDWARD SERPA of Emory Avenue, who made the trip last month for their 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Serpa said they were in a restaurant in Hilo when the floor began to shake and things started falling off shelves. Someone shouted "Earthquake!" and everybody dove under the tables seeking shelter.

There was quite a bit of excitement, but Mrs. Serpa said it didn't bother them and they're already planning their next trip to the islands...

Tom Gabbard and Lorrie Bryant will be two of the starring Thespians to perform in the musical play "Brigadoon" to be presented by the Campbell High Drama Department on May 10, 11 and 12 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

"Brigadoon" is the tale of two young men who happen upon the magical land of that same name while traveling in Scotland--a land which seems to appear only every hundred years or so.

Tom is cast as Tommy Albright, with Pat Powers as his companion Jeff. Their romantic counterparts are played by Lorrie as Fiona and Joan Evans, Sheree Young and Lynn Eldrege triple cast in the role of Meg. Karen Doss holds the lead dance role, and the wise Mr. Lundie is portrayed by Mark Nichols.

Tickets can be purchased from a cast member or at the door.

CERTIFIED CYNIC CHOSEN

This week I have chosen to present a special award in place of the usual whoop-de-doo honor. This week's contest was held for the purpose of selecting an individual deserving of the title Certified Cynic--in the category of Specialized Sarcasm. And I'm sure you will all agree that the one deserving top honors in this field is none but that willy writer of wonderful witticisms, Ms. Sandra Mann.

Sandy was chosen to receive the award after the publication of her most recent column in the Campbell Press. She has managed to offend (in this order) the football, basketball, tennis, soccer, golf, track, roller derby, chess, and knitting teams, (who were last seen lying in combined wait for her outside the cafeteria) all junior and senior prom lovers, politicians, and the entire boy's P.E. Department. Now that seems to be some kind of record.

Congrats, Sandy, old girl! You will soon receive an engraved plaque announcing that you are a member of the Select Cynics of America. We also include a pair of track shoes and a large baseball bat for protection from that often unsympathetic and vicious thing; your reading public.

"Dolly" dancing-smashing!

by Steve Rockwell

The spectacular choreography of Steve Merritt made "Hello Dolly!," the current attraction of San Jose Music Theater, something very special when the popular musical opened on Friday night in the Montgomery Theater.

The familiar musical comedy featured guest star Janis Paige, veteran screen, stage and television personality. Miss Paige is more of an actress than a performer, which this particular role calls for. She gives it her all, but that really is not enough for the character of Dolly Levi. However, she did add a needed warm touch in curtain call speech praising the company.

Outstanding in supporting roles were Peter David Heth as Horace Vandergelder and Linda Tompkins as Minnie Fay. Heth, a newcomer to San Jose Community Theater, makes a distinct impression on the audience as a good comedian. Miss Tompkins not only makes her character a perfect delight, but shows considerable talent as a dancer especially in the "Dancing" number.

However, the great moments in this rendition are the male dancing ensemble. There is total togetherness in the cleanness and polish of the exceptional male dancers including Jerry Evans of Campbell. Special kudos to Larry Cowles, Darryl Darrin, Tim Crowley, Jeff Hornaday, Tim O'Brien, John Picone, Thomas Sinnott and Bill Spence. The Waiter's Gallop in the second act is worth the price of admission.

The sets by staff member Dwight McBride were again creative and the props by scenic artist Steve Wathen were especially well done. Although Miss Paige's costumes were exquisite, the other costumes by Eileen Barnes lacked consistency. Some were good, others were poor. The ramp lighting was unnecessarily poor with many black spots appearing. Also Randy Earl's light design lacked imagination, maintaining one level during both the night and day scenes. Lighting so many times is needed to create a mood.

Some of the major roles essayed by the youthful performers were played in a high school fashion which meant laughs at any price. Sometimes it is important to stand still.

The professional orchestra had their usual polish under the helm of conductor Richard Nelson. The direction of the entire show was left in the hands of George Costa.

The show will be repeated tonight through Sunday. For ticket information, call 286-6841.

Westmont PTA presents film

"Kids, Parents, Pressures," is the title of a humorous film to be shown at the Wednesday, May 16, meeting of the Westmont High School PTSA, beginning at 8 p.m.

After a short business meeting, installation of officers will take place at the final meeting of the school year.

On display will be articles made by the students in Art, Crafts, Metal Shop, Woodshop, Sewing and Foods, as well as specialty plants and seedlings grown by the Agriculture class. Many articles will be on sale.

Callsheet

with C. Michael

Opening nights are always so much fun. All of the ladies adorned with their jewels and furs (even in May) and their husbands who really don't wish to be there. And they all are trying to impress each other with their lack of knowledge about the theater. ...The highlights from Music Theater's "Hello Dolly!" were provided by Steve Merritt's choreographic efforts, good performances from Peter David Heth, Linda Tompkins, and Linda Spink, and the costumes worn by guest star Janis Paige.....Saw the tab version on Saturday afternoon and a super performance from pintsize Michele Freiberg as Dolly Levi. She deserved the standing ovation that was all hers. Other good performers were Bunky Lloyd (following in the footsteps of his mom, Lila), Keith Barna, Jill Klein, and tiny Roger Mann as the Judge.

Attended the Saturday performance of Pioneer High's "My Fair Lady." It was an evening to remember with excellent performances by leads Richard Boesser and Robin Whisinet. Great musical numbers staged by Debbie Nelson and George Costa. Good direction by drama coach Betty Gardner and music direction by student Paul Siegel.

High school productions these days are every bit as good as adult community groups .... Campbell's "Brigadoon" opens this Thursday. Cast in the lead role is Tom Gabbard, a familiar face to Campbell High audiences. Gabbard is the original "clean-cut kid." He sings well, too...

Jeff Risk of Campbell is busy dividing his time between playing a role in "You Can't Take It with You" for the Community Players and doing the choreographic chores for Santa Clara University's "Boyfriend." Another Marie Stinnett pupil makes good....

John Healy opens "Bye, Bye Birdie" with his children's group on May 17, 18 and 19. That boy deserves much credit in keeping a teenage group going. Presently it is the only community organization catering exclusively to just the teens and under. Keep up the good work...

Get well wishes to Laura Dean. Her mother is Evelyn Dean, who designs costumes for many of the groups. She has just recovered from a serious operation....Roberta Viscovich keeps busy these days doing a featured role in Community Players' "....Take It with You" while learning dance steps for her lead role of Margo Channing in West Valley's "Applause." I understand that she has even given up bowling. It's her first musical role. Where does one go from there?....

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society will present "H.M.S. Pinafore" in the Montgomery Theater on May 25 and 26 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 27, at 3 p.m. matinee. For more info, call 265-1490 or 268-8213. John P. Healy directs. When does he eat and sleep?...

Short Takes... Marian O. Chapman to produce "Forum" for Phoenix. Her third show for that group...Alan Haydis slated for musical director for Saratoga's "Fiddler."..."Paint Your Wagon" named as summer show for Campbell High... Rumored that "Follies" may be the summer show for Music Theater. A difficult show for any group...Armand Souza made an exciting curtain call in Saturday night's "Dolly." Superman lives again...

Weekend Best Bets: "Homecoming," at ART; "Dames at Sea" with Centerplayers; "Brigadoon" at Campbell High; "Fair Lady" at Pioneer High; "Dolly" at Music Theater, and "You Can't Take It with You" at the Saratoga Civic.

"BRIGADOON" --- Dancers Pam Murphy, Brian Santos, Yvette Valencia, Mike Burton and Sue Mauldin, practice intricate steps for the Highland dances which will be seen in the Campbell High School production of "Brigadoon" which begins this Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

CHOREOGRAPHY --- Marie Stinnett, local dance teacher, choreographs young dancers in the cast of "Brigadoon" which will be presented by Campbell High School students this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 10, 11 and 12, in the school auditorium. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

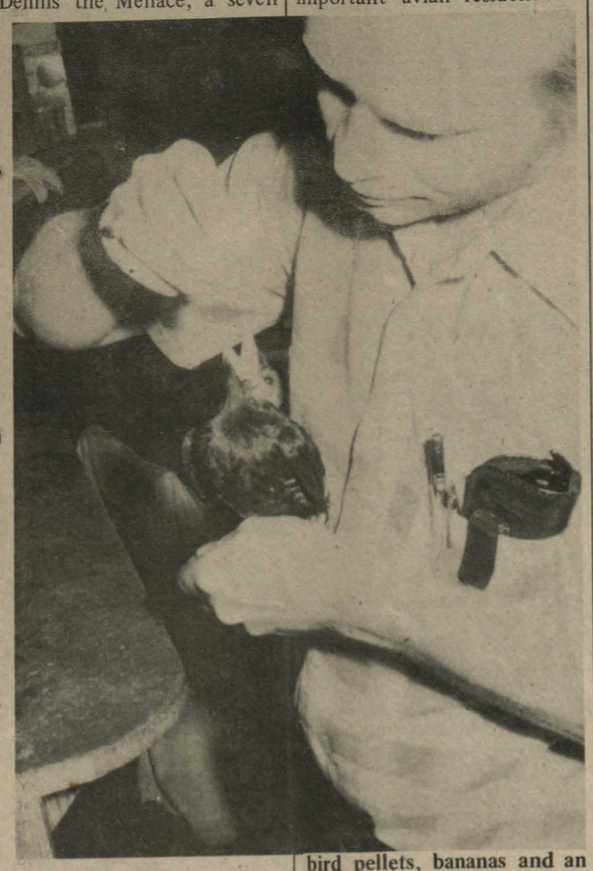
Captivity agrees with loquacious bird

by Jo Ann Zoller

"I can talk—can YOU fly?" might be the question that Dennis the Menace, a seven week old Hill Mynah bird, will be asking in a few months.

Right now Dennis is a very important avian resident of the M & M Pet Shop on Bascom and Union Avenues. Important because he is one of a very few number of Hill Mynahs ever to be born and to survive in captivity.

His chief caretaker is Marvin Barney, employee at M & M, who has hand-fed Dennis since the bird was rejected by its parents at one week of age.



SNACK BREAK---Mynah bird Dennis, a resident of M & M Pet Shop, is a growing bird and always ready for a bite to eat. His diet consists of Mynah bird pellets, bananas and an occasional red worm. He eats on his own now, quite a change from the "every two hour" schedule he was on when he was younger.

2 A.M. FEEDINGS

Hand-feeding a Mynah is no easy task.

Barney prepared a diet consisting of mealworms and Mynah bird food soaked with water and fed it through an eyedropper every two hours until Dennis was three weeks old.

Now, at seven weeks of age, Barney says things have settled into a more normal pattern and Dennis eats on his own, feeding on Mynah bird pellets, bananas and for a new taste sensation, occasionally, a few red worms. The diet will stay the same until his beak is more fully developed to where he can pick up bits of apple.

It's easy to see by the squalling, screeching and open mouthed begging Dennis portrays when he sees Barney that the bird recognizes a valuable friend.

THE HATCHING

The whole thing began several months ago. Barney had two birds which he thought were males. A customer purchased one as a surprise birthday gift and asked Barney to keep it at the shop for a few days. Barney was more than a little surprised when he opened the shop the next day and discovered an egg on the bottom of the cage.

It's almost impossible to determine the sex of a Mynah, but circumstances being what they were, it was obvious one bird was a female. Since Mynahs mate for life or until one dies, Barney convinced his customer to take a different bird.

After that it was sit, watch, wait and read up on the nesting habits of these loquacious avions.

According to a Mynah manual published by T.F.H. Publications the birds have to be housed alone in a large open flight cage, 6 x 12 feet by 8 feet high, with a shelter area 6 x 3 feet for nesting in order to breed.

But these birds seemed perfectly contented in the 3 x 4 foot cage at the pet shop.

The egg was placed in a cardboard box lined with shredded newspaper. A total of three eggs were laid.

Barney still wasn't sure which one was the female but it must be concluded it must have been the large one as it did most of the "sitting." (This was another unusual thing as generally the male is the larger.)

egg with Dennis inside hatched. But the others never did. One was found to be infertile and the other for some unknown reason simply did not hatch.

After the parent birds rejected Dennis, it was necessary to place him under a heating lamp and maintain a heat of 65-70 degrees until he was five weeks of age.

THE FUTURE

At present Dennis appears to be a somewhat disheveled bird that squalls a lot and eats a great deal. However, these conditions will change for the better according to Mynah books and Marvin Barney, as Dennis matures and molts and begins to groom himself.

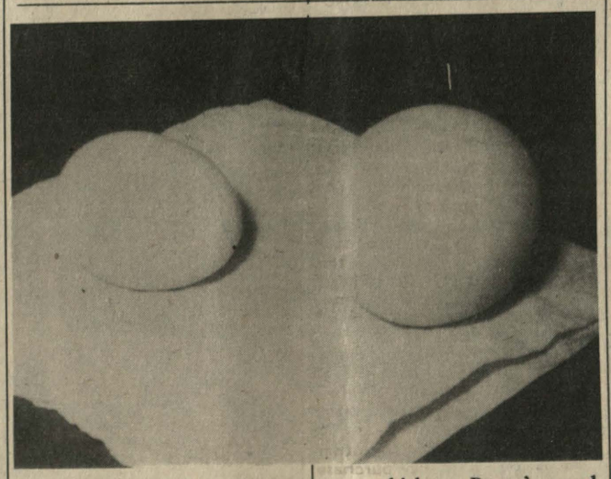
Mynahs, which come from such far off places as India, Burma, Thailand, Indochina and Malaysia, begin talking at about two months of age and most of their vocabulary is learned within the first year.

They are great mimics and can imitate not only different human voices but such unusual sounds as the squeak of a chair or door, the barking of a dog, or the meowing of a cat. Some have even been reported to mimic the ringing of a bell with almost unbelievable realism.

Right now the big question at M & M Pet Shop is will Dennis survive to maturity, which is about 6 months of age for the Mynah?

Only three have been known to have done so in the past.

READY FOR TAKE OFF---Dennis the Menace, a seven-week-old Mynah bird, is one of a select few ever to be born and to survive in captivity. Chief caretaker for Dennis is Marvin Barney of M & M Pet Shop.



SUPER CHICKEN EGG---The object you see above next to the egg IS NOT an orange. The jumbo egg, weighing four and a half ounces, (compared to the two and a half ounce large-sized egg) was produced by one of Bruce Grattan's Aracana chickens. Bruce's grandmother, Mrs. Roy Archibald, brought in the egg because... seeing is believing. Aracana chickens are noted for laying eggs of different pastel colors. The giant egg above is light green.

JUST SO---Marilyn Whitted, Forest Hill first grade teacher, adjusts picture at Campbell City Hall. Student art work will be on display through May 18.

Youth art on display at Campbell City Hall

Campbell student art work is on display throughout city hall this week, where display tables and cases are on view in addition to wall hangings. Representative art from kindergarten through eighth grade classes of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will remain on display from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily through May 18.

An evening exhibit will be held on Friday, May 11, from 8 to 10 p.m.

According to Al Watson, informational services coordinator for the district, "We feel that all kids are potentially creative and our teachers are attempting to nurture that creativity."

Specialized seventh and eighth grade art on display includes weaving, ceramics, batik, lost-wax-cost jewelry and apple dolls.

Director of the display is Marsha Wells, district art coordinator, who works as a master teacher at the district office as well as in schools throughout the district.

"Ours is a very practical way to develop the thinking process in children by teaching them to be creative thinkers," Watson concluded.

From the colorful displays throughout the building, Campbell has a wealth of creative thinkers.

A BEAR---Chris and Steve Nastrimi are impressed with one example of the student art work on display at the Campbell City Hall.

STUDENT HELPER --- Mark Del Carlo, eighth grade student at Campbell Elementary helps set up the art display at Campbell City Hall.

Aspirin and hot tea for a cold and fever? Maybe not. The aspirin does reduce high temperature, but caffeine (in tea as well as coffee) appears to keep body heat up when taken in quantity.

Coventry School is "off to the races"

Cheers, shouts and sounds of rock and roll music coming from an outside speaker echoed across the Coventry School grounds last Friday as the second annual Go-Cart Races got under way.

Student-made go-carts got ready for the practice timed runs while hundreds of students lined the fields, fences and starting area.

FINAL PREPARATIONS

A few technical difficulties slowed things up as one entry (number 53, lined with a white rug and sporting a pink cushion back-rest) lost one of its rear wheels before the race began.

During the trial heat Car 53 again lost the wheel coming around the far turn and had to be carried to the pit area for repairs. After feverish activity by a dozen junior mechanics the car was again back on the track.

Car 33's time lap was slowed somewhat when the driver mistakenly drove back into the pit area instead of across the finish line.

In the final lap of the race, trouble-plaqued Car 53 again encountered trouble as the wheels came to a stop and refused to carry the driver over the finish line.

First place went to Tracy Black in his "A & W Special," while second place was captured by "The Spirit of '76."

Presenting the trophies, donated by The Campbell Press, was Frank Lovoi who will serve as Coventry's principal beginning this fall.

Local youth in the swim

The splashes and shouts heard each afternoon at the Campbell High School swimming pool are members of the West Valley Aquatic Team putting in their practice laps as they get set for the Age Group Junior Olympic qualifying meet this Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13. The meet begins at 9 a.m. both days and will continue throughout the day.

Held at the Campbell pool, top qualifiers of the meet will be eligible to go on to the regional meet planned for May 26, 27 and 28 at Diablo Valley College. Top swimmers go onto the Mission Viejo meet and from there, hopefully, to the national competition held in Kentucky later this year.

Four age groups will be competing in the events this Saturday including the 12 and under group which includes those 10 and under and 11 and 12 year olds, the 13 and 14 year age groups and the oldest swimmers, 15 through 17.

HUNDREDS INVOLVED

Over 400 young people are involved in competition swimming in the West Valley Aquatic Team this year, including many in the Campbell area.

With the Santa Clara Swim Club dominating competition swimming, local coaches felt that some of the best swimming talent was getting their basic training here only to go move to the other club where competition was keener. With an eye towards upgrading the swim program locally, the coaching group formed the West Valley group three years ago.

This year nine swimming coaches are involved in the program. Eight from surrounding high schools, including Campbell High School, and one from West Valley College (where a 50 meter pool, built in recent years, helped spark formation of the local group).

LOCAL TALENT

Hopes are riding high on several talented swimmers this year. Del Mar student Steve Austin, 16, was named to the All-American Swim Team in 1972. (100 yd. freestyle) The all-stars represent the top 20 male high school swimmers nationwide.

Greg Smith, 17, of Saratoga, is another strong swimmer. His strongest showing has been in the breaststroke.

Jack Albertson, 14, of Los Gatos, has made a great showing in both the backstroke and the freestyle and is expected to qualify at the May 13 meet.

Ten year-old Kelli Troupe, a Blackford Elementary School student, is one of the most promising young swimmers with her strongest bid in the breaststroke.

Dan Bailey, 13, of Leigh, is another strong breaststroke swimmer and local coaches expect an outstanding performance from him this year.

TO JOIN

Campbell youngsters interested in the swim team at Campbell High are invited to attend an orientation meeting on Tuesday, May 15 at 5 p.m. According to Coach Steve Beritzhoff, new swimmers will take part in a two week trial clinic at no charge where they'll learn the competition strokes. At the end of the trial period, he said, those who need further training may enroll in classes while those qualified to join the swim club will be announced.

PRACTICE LAPS---Campbell Swim Club members, shown above, get ready for a few more practice laps using their practice boards. The local team is in training for the Age Group Junior Olympic qualifying meet this Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13, at the Campbell High School pool.

Campbell Little League

by Doug Brooner

CAMPBELL L.L. DOES IT ALL

Campbell Little League's 20th season is only one week old and already there have been shutouts, wild innings, a slugfest and irony.

Last Sunday's ball games were no exception. Highlight game in the Majors was a three hit, no run performance, by Campbell Plaza's Mark Clough, as he defeated D's Automotive 2-0. Hitting honors for Plaza went to Gary Tasker who went 3 for 3.

WILD INNING

For the "wild inning" it was the Minor American Round Table Pizza team who scored 10 runs to defeat league-leading John White Insurance 11-4. Two home runs in the big inning did the damage with Dennis Kavie and Bob Guditus hitting the four-baggers.

SLUGFEST

The slugfest happened in the Farm Division between John Cole Insurance and Bernard Tile when a total of 31 runs crossed the plate. John Cole had more, 16-15.

IRONY

For irony, Fred Pennewell, manager of Minor team Campbell Optimist did not draft his nine-year-old son to be on his team. Another minor league team drafted him and made him a pitcher. Dad met son in a game last week and, like a TV script, Mitty Pennewell pitched his team to a win. The Pennewell household had mixed emotions that night.

Insurance men host homeless

Three local businessmen were on hand at Candlestick Park last weekend when the San Francisco Giants took on the Chicago Cubs.

Ron Phillips, Cal Owens and John Evans of the San Jose Life Underwriter's Association were among members participating in the 1973 Homeless Children's Day.

Youngsters from Santa Clara County were treated to the baseball game by the organization which holds the annual event to call attention to the over 100 children who need homes.
